Indians Open Season Tomorrow, Playing Strong Fort Monroe Team

Weather permitting, the Indians will open the 1922 baseball season tomorrow when they cross bats with the representative Fort Monroe nine. The Artillerymen are said to have a strong team this year, and have been getting in some good practice.

During the week Coach Driver has been staging daily practice games between the varsity and scrubs, in this way getting a good insight into the ability of most of the candidates for the team.

The work of the week has been featured by some heavy hitting on the part of the first string tossers and the new men. The varsity infield is again looking classy. Monk White has been shifted from center field to the midway station, and is holding down the position in fine style. To fill his place in the field, Coach Driver has been using Westbrook, a new man, and Harwood and Clarke, of last year's team. Westbrook is the fastest man of the three, and the best fielder. The call for the position will center around the one wielding the big stick to most advantage.

Stephens has been slowly rounding into condition, and looks like he will repeat his 1920 record. "Curt" Thompson looks like a sure thing for one of the mound staff. Lane is also exhibiting all the earmarks of a strong box man. Jordan looks good, but lacks control. Harwood has been showing up well.

Chalkley is the most aggressive receiver seen on Cary Field in some time. Jones, also out for a place behind the bat, is a good catcher, and has been hitting fairly well.

Among the new men, Todd, Denton, Westbrook, Lane, Jones, Chalkley, and Levvy have been showing up the best.

Women Have Many Sports This Year

Have Choice of Indulging in Tennis, Baseball, Hockey, Hiking or Archery

Tennis, baseball, swimming, hockey, hiking, and archery will be included in women's athletics at the college this spring, according to an announcement made by the athletic authorities.

Practice for the tennis tournament to be held the latter part of April will begin as soon as the courts are in condition. As classes are being arranged for beginners, any women in college may compete, provided they practice at least three hours a week.

Enough women for two baseball teams have already been signed up. Indoor baseball is now in progress, but as soon as the weather permits the regular outdoor game will be played.

For those who swim, demonstrations and meets will be held, the first one having been staged last Friday night. Beginners will compete against each other, as well as the advanced classes.

A call has been issued for candidates for the hockey team. If a number respond, it is probable that the college will have an intercollegiate team.

The hiking group has been divided into bands of twenty, each group having a captain who keeps a score of the mileage. There are six teams to date, and new women are rapidly enrolling. The team having the highest mileage at the end of the contest, May 10, will be entertained by the other contesting teams, and the six individuals with the highest scores will be awarded arm bands.

Archery is the most recent innovation. The picturesque old English sport could not have a more fitting background than here at William and Mary. Practice will start about the first of April.

Track Schedule Heaviest In Years

Two Dual Meets Scheduled With V. M. I. and University of Richmond

Athletic Director James G. Driver has announced the track schedule for this year. A glance at the card shows that this year's track squad has the heaviest and most comprehensive schedule ever attempted by an Indian track team.

The candidates are at present working faithfully under the direction of Coach Gooch. Weather permitting, the field day will be held this afternoon, and the members of the team selected from among the winners of the various events.

The schedule is as follows:

April 8—Dual meet with V. M. I., at Williamsburg.

April 22—(Open).

May 6—American Legion meet, at Washington, D. C.

May 12-13—South Atlantic meet, at Charlottesville.

May 20—Dual meet with University of Richmond, at Westhampton.

LECTURE TOMORROW

Dr. Henry Campbell Black, of Washington, D. C., author of many standard law books, and editor of the Constitutional Review, will deliver the tenth of the series of constitutional lectures being given at the College of William and Mary under the auspices of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, in the college chapel tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. The subject of Dr. Black's address will be "The Continental Congress and the Articles of Confederation," an interesting subject with which the speaker is especially familiar.

The textbook used in the course in Constitutional Law at the college was prepared by Dr. Black. He is also the author of a number of other standard texts on law subjects.

DEBATE TUESDAY

Dickinson and Duke Compose Team Which Debates Colby College Next Week

The first of the intercollegiate debates arranged by the Debate Council will be held with Colby College in chapel at 8 p. m. Tuesday, April 4. The Colby Debating Team is composed of George Bernard Wolstenhome, Clyde Elwin Russell, Leonard Withington Mayo, and Forrest Merle Royal.

Colby College, located in Waterville, Maine, is sending an intercollegiate debate team of four men across country to Indianola, Iowa, ostensibly to attend the annual convention of the national honorary forensic society of Pi Kappa Delta, but enroute the team is to meet in joint debate eight institutions, namely, Western Reserve University, Kalamazoo College, University of Notre Dame, Hedding College, Simpson College, Berea College, College of William and Mary, and Blue Ridge College. The proposition to be debated is "Resolved, that the principle of the closed shop is justifiable," Colby debating the negative.

Debating and public speaking has long been strongly emphasized at Colby, and twelve years ago a department of public speaking was established, this department carrying on each year a large program of collegiate oratorical and debating work. This cross-country trip of its debate team is a part of the program for the present year.

An interesting fact in connection with this cross-country debate trip is that the Waterville Rotary Club, composed of about 75 of the leading citizens of Waterville is contributing a very large part of the money necessary to finance it. As the team will be accompanied by Professor Herbert C. Libby, Litt.D., head of the department of public speaking, himself a Rotarian and former secretary of the club, it is the plan for the team to

UNION OF NATIONS WITHOUT COERCION IS A POSSIBILITY, DR. SCOTT SAYS HERE

Would Be Regulated by Same Principles on Which the American Constitution Is Laid

That a union of nations for any or all purposes is possible, guided by the principle of restraining and punishing individuals for their acts, and not the states to which they belong, is exemplified by the strength of the Constitution of the United States, Dr. James Brown Scott, of Washington, D. C., one of the world's greatest authorities on international law and relations, declared here in the ninth of the series of the constitutional lectures being given at the College of William and Mary under the auspices of the Marshall-

STUDENTS ASKED TO TRY FOR ORATORICAL CONTEST

The time for the State Oratorical Contest is rapidly drawing nearer. Last year Washington and Lee carried the honors home. Will they do it again? The contest will be held in the early part of May. The council is unable to announce where yet; but it is probable that it will be held at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia. Let's get busy, men. Begin work on your oration now—only about a month is left and the preliminaries here may be expected soon. Consult Dr. Morton for advice before you start work. William and Mary must be strongly represented this year.

ABOLISH RESTRICTIONS ON GENERAL ASSEMBLY, IS HOPE OF DR. HUGHES

SWIMMING EXHIBITION GIVEN FRIDAY NIGHT

A demonstration to show the advance made by the women students in swimming was held in the Jefferson pool last Friday night, with an audience that taxed the capacity of the room.

The feature of the demonstration was an exhibition by Miss Ruth van Waggensen, of Richmond, who demonstrated a number of water stunts and skillful dives. The beginners' classes under the direction of Misses Lois Robinson and Lucile Jackson showed the advance they have made in their work, and the advanced classes also staged a number of interesting events.

Marshall-Wythe Lecturer Says Legislature Has No Time to Deliberate on Its Action

Hopes that the planned Constitutional Convention will abolish the "present unreasonable restrictions" upon the freedom of action of the General Assembly, and that it will be "given sufficient time to remain at least a deliberative body" were expressed by Robert M. Hughes, Sr., a prominent lawyer of Norfolk, Va., in delivering the seventh of the series of constitutional lectures being given at the College of William and Mary under the auspices of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and

Drinking Must Stop, Men Students Told

Drinking must stop, the student council told the men students last Wednesday morning in chapel. In view of the fact that during the last month there has been more drinking than in the entire year previous to that time; and, that there have been numerous complaints in this matter, the council has decided to take stringent action in all cases of drinking.

Hereafter, any man when found guilty of drinking intoxicating liquors will be expelled from college, if he has been a consistent drinker, or if he has been warned for such act before. The judgment will depend upon the facts of the case. Ignorance of this ruling is no excuse. It is not the desire of the council to expel any man, but sentiment is against drinking, and it will be entirely prohibited.

Mr. Hoskins, speaking for the council, said that but three men had been shipped this year, and not fifteen as was rumored. These men were expelled for cheating on examinations. Two were reported by professors; one by a student of high standing on the campus. Continuing, Mr. Hoskins said that the council had endeavored to fulfill its duties as it saw them, and that it appreciated the support which the students had given.

NOTICE

To Pre-Medical Students

Pre-medical students who expect to enter some medical school next autumn should get application blanks from the Secretary of the Medical School they plan to attend, fill out these blanks and send them in at once. Indications are that the medical schools will have large classes next fall, and if you are late in applying you may find that you cannot enter the school of your choice. Dr. Davis will be glad to advise with any student who is in doubt about any matter. He will be in his office, No. 1 Penniman Building (west entrance), Monday 12:00 to 12:15; Tuesday 3:00 to 3:30; Thursday 10:00 to 10:30.

Movable schools for the children of migratory laborers in the San Joaquin Valley of California are conducted by the state board of education. The schools move from place to place with the laborers as these keep up with the harvest.

Dickinson and Duke To Represent W. & M.

W. A. Dickinson and C. J. Duke, Jr., will represent William and Mary in the debate with Colby on Tuesday. Dickinson, since his stay at the college, has been active in debate and oratorical contests. He won the oratorical medal during his freshman year at the college; that year he also represented Phoenix in final debate; he represented William and Mary in the contest the same year with Richmond College. The following year he debated with Lynchburg College. Duke took no little interest in debate and oration when he was a student at Wake Forest. Mawson and Winder will represent the college in later debates during the spring. Mawson represented Phoenix in the debating contest with Philomathean last year; while Winder represented Phoenix this year. There seems to be a keener interest than ever before in the coming debates; and the college could have no better representatives than Dickinson and Duke in the debate with Colby on Tuesday.

William and Mary will debate with Richmond University here on Tuesday, April 11. During the Northern trip, which the Debate Council is planning, William and Mary will debate with several Northern colleges.

ECHO GOOD THIS YEAR; NUMBER NEW FEATURES

The Colonial Echo will be out on May 15th if all goes well, according to the announcement of the Echo staff. The arrangement of the Annual will be in many ways original, and several new sections have been added.

The Echo will this year contain about 350 pages and will be attractively bound in Fabrikoid, with a picture of the Main Building in colors on the front. It is dedicated to Dr. James H. Dillard, Rector of the Board of Visitors, and on the title pages will appear a picture of the mace, which will be presented in June.

Pictures of President Harading and his party and of the formal installation of Dr. Chandler on October 19th, will comprise a "Feature Section." Other new sections will be "Who's Who," with 40 pictures, and a section containing pictures of the 25 prettiest co-eds.

It is understood that the Echo sponsor will this year be a co-ed.

Juniors Probably Entertain Seniors

The Junior Class is to entertain the Seniors in a few weeks, according to a motion adopted at the meeting of the class last Tuesday morning in the college chapel. Plans for a reception, banquet, dance, or picnic were discussed. It was not decided what form the entertainment will be; however the class seems to favor a dinner. Lee Ford, presiding over the meeting, appointed Miss Scott, Dorothy Terrill, Myree Hutchins, and J. G. Pollard a committee to investigate several plans and to report them to the class.

To help create a greater class distinction and rivalry, the juniors voted in favor of a regular order for leaving the chapel after exercises. The faculty, as at present, to leave first, the seniors to follow them, the juniors to follow the seniors, and the sophomores to follow last. The freshmen, when meeting with the upperclassmen, would take their places at the rear. It is thought that this slight honor and respect is due especially to the seniors.

Also, the class favors the adoption of a system, which Professor Zehmer, of the educational department, has worked out, by which the relative standing of the students, and of the classes, can be accurately determined. This plan considers the number and the class of subjects taken. It is said to show a true record of standing. Bill Christian and Miss Scott were appointed to present the plan to the other classes and to urge its adoption. If this is done it will be easy to see which class is doing the best work.

Philomatheans Buy Books For Library

The Philomathean Literary Society has appropriated fifty dollars to buy some books for the library. For the most part, the books will pertain to debates and declamations. Mr. Swem has been asked to order the books he thinks will be best. The library is very poorly stocked with books of this kind, and it is felt that the addition of these volumes will be a great aid to those who are interested in the cultivation of the forensic art.

The society has also made an appropriation for the portrait which is to be made of Dr. Van F. Garrett.

MUSICAL HELD

The regular musical of the week was held on Sunday, March 26, at Bassett Hall. The Misses Smith were delightful hostesses, showing many interesting things in this historic house in addition to giving choice musical numbers.

The next concert will be at "The Practice House" on Jamestown Road with Miss Gallagher as hostess.

ENTERTAINING MUSICAL

Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Crawford entertained a number of college students and members of the faculty at their home on Peacock Hill last Sunday afternoon, at an entertaining musical.

Some of the most interesting of the many fine records given were those by Caruso, which seemed to bring that great singer back to life.

SPRING STYLE REVIEW

Tinged with a vivid living joyousness comes the Spring and glorious days when "all the world's ablaze with sky." In step with this fine spirit comes the Meyers Brothers annual Spring Style Review, in preparation for which no amount of effort in seeking all that is smart, new and lovely in apparel and fabrics is too great.

Gathered from the four corners of everywhere are interesting details of the Spring costume and accessories—interesting in character, style, color and interesting because of the economy in all lines and grades of apparel for woman, miss, child and baby. Early inspection is invited.

Young To Captain Next Year's Team

At a recent meeting of the letter men in basketball, Whiting F. (Buck) Young, stationery guard on the Indian quint for three years, was elected to lead next year's team. Young is a letter man in track, managed last year's football team, and is President of the Athletic Council.

The following men have been awarded monograms: Capt. Cooke, monogram and star; Pierce, C. G., monogram and three stars; Harwood, monogram and star; Young, monogram and two stars; Hicks, monogram; Peters, monogram; Pierce, E. H., monogram. "Chet" Pierce is the only man at the present time not expected to return to college next fall.

Local Sextet Too Much For Visitors

The William and Mary women's basketball team easily defeated the team representing the Social Service School, of Richmond, by the score of 62 to 7.

The features of the contest was the brilliant teamwork and skillful floor-work and shooting exhibited by the William and Mary team. The visitors had few chances to score, and at no time during the game did they show the brand of court game shown by William and Mary.

Zehmer, Chase, Dixon, Rew, and Best played the best game for William and Mary. Geissing played the best game for the visiting women.

The line-up and summary follows:

W. & M.	Pos.	S. S. S.
Zehmer	F	Geissing
Chase	F	Rowe
Best	C	Morton
Rew	C	Smith
Kite	G	Saunders
Sterling	G	Cox

Substitutions—W. & M.: Dixon for Chase, Saunders for Kite, Gibbons for Rew, Whitaker for Best, Sinclair for Gibbons. Social Service: N. Morton for Smith. Field goals: Zehmer, 15; Chase, 9; Dixon, 7; Geissing, 2. Foul goals: Zehmer, 1 in 3; Geissing, 3 in 5. Referee: Miss Rucker, of Newport News.

WOMEN GET MONOGRAMS

Monograms of a design similar to those worn by the men, surrounded by a circle, will be awarded the members of the women's basketball team. The monogram will be smaller than the standard college monogram.

Those who will be awarded letters are as follows: Misses Chase, Dixon, Zehmer, forwards; Whitaker, Rew, Best, centers; Kite, Sterling, Saunders, guards; Tuthill, manager.

L'Union Interlyceene de la Ligue Nationale contre l'Alcoolisme is an organization of French secondary school students for study of alcoholism. They are not required to be total abstainers, but are for moderation or temperance as they speak of it. Recently a series of meetings has been held throughout France, at which thousands of students have attended the morning and afternoon sessions.

From university professor to national president is a popular sport these days since our ex-president set the example. Of the three republics now occupying the territory of the former Austro-Hungarian empire, two have university professors as presidents.

while others were of the belief that at this time, while the business slump prevails, it would be well to curtail the expense of the common school and who believed that the high school was an unnecessary expense. He sounded a warning against this influence prevailing in the country and stated that it could not lead to advancement of the best interests.

Value of High School Education

"The high school graduate, by statistics compiled, has an earning power twenty-five times as great as that of the common school graduate," he further stated, "and the college graduate has ten times the earning capacity of the high school graduate." He went on to state that the school has taken the place of the home in the cities and, to a large extent, in the country, and a greater upkeep is required and schools must be carried on on a more extensive scale, that civilization is more complex today and that more complex problems must be met and solved and that it required a more complex system of schools to prepare man for his proper place in the modern world of affairs.

Dr. Chandler Warns of Educational Reaction

At the Closing of "D" District Teachers' Convention at the Du Pont Club at Hopewell Last Week

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of the College of William and Mary, spoke on the condition in general of the schools in the United States and the opinion of business men in regard to educational matters.

Sees Educational Reaction

Dr. Chandler rather startled his audience by the declaration that at this time there is a decided educational reaction in many parts of the country and that many men in high civic life were prejudiced against the advancement of the public schools,

RECOMMENDED TO THE STUDENTS

Tomorrow, unless unforeseen obstacles intervene, the Indians will begin their 1922 baseball season. And unless something out of the way happens, we believe that it will be the best season the local team has ever had.

The student body should, and we believe will, support the team. That support, to be successful, is contingent on one thing. Baseball players cannot do their best when they are continually being crowded by people hanging around home plate, and the third and first base foul lines. The William and Mary nine is no exception, nor are the teams which are expected to play here this Spring.

To that end the Flat Hat recommends to the student body, men and women, that during the period of any games on the home field, and during the practice preceding such games, that the students, one and all, find seats in the grandstand and stay there. Baseball, to the spectator, is a far more dangerous game than any other sport, and for that reason the students should be mindful of their duty to themselves.

We have seen, year in and year out, students and others connected with the college who persisted in hanging around the bench, or along the side lines, continually worrying the players, and interfering with their play in more ways than one.

It is hoped that the students will see the folly in their action, and in the future will view games from the stand erected for that purpose.

Last year and the year previous, we noticed that a number of the women students displayed a rare ignorance of the national pastime. This was shown fully on a number of occasions. In the future, the Flat Hat advises that those not thoroughly cognizant of the game take their cues from other people, as to yelling and cheering, instead of being guided by their own impulses.

FLAT HAT ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Flat Hat announces the appointment of T. C. Clarke as Circulation Manager, succeeding W. H. Hoskins, resigned; and F. O. Clarke as Assistant Circulation Manager, to succeed the present Circulation Manager.

The winners in the reportorial competition last week are announced as follows: G. A. Downing, E. B. Moffitt, H. D. Wilkins, J. S. Jenkins, M. B. Valentine, S. C. Hall, and R. E. Kennard.

With their aid the Flat Hat hopes to improve the efficiency of the paper.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL'S ACTION

The talk given in chapel last week by the President of the Student Council should carry some weight of restraint to those for whom the lecture was given.

Drinking today is a violation of the State and National laws. As such it should be discountenanced. Further, excessive drinking at the College of William and Mary is prohibited by the Honor Code. The Student Council asserts that certain members of the student body have been drinking too much, and that the Council intends summarily dismissing these men from college if their actions are continued, governed, naturally, by the facts of each individual case.

Such action on the part of the Council is commendable, and it is hoped that this stand will stop effectually all over-indulgence on the part of some of the students.

Experience has taught us that the brand of liquor sold today is harmful, to the spirit and to the body. As such, use of the stuff should be abandoned.

SIGMA UPSILON MEETING

The Sigma Upsilon Literary Fraternity held its most interesting meeting of this year at the Omicron Delta Kappa house Thursday night. Dr. Hall was present as an honorary member.

W. A. Dickinson opened the meeting, which was informal, by a very interesting history of the fraternity, after which Mr. White gave an account of the lives of Gordon and Hope, after whom this chapter is named, and of Judge St. George Tucker, one of the college's most illustrious alumni. Mr. Davis then read the first chapter of the novel, which it is the purpose of the society to complete. Dr. Hall made a short talk to the members of the society in which he expressed the hope that the society might become an inspiration and a fountain from which might develop literary men to represent the college. After Dr. Hall had concluded, Mr. White gave a scholastic record of this chapter's members for the preceding month. Of the one hundred and seventy hours taken by the eleven members, there were seventy-one

A credits, seventy-seven B's, and twenty-two C's.

After the refreshments had been served, two men were initiated into the society—Mr. Brauer of the college, and Mr. Lytle, of Newport News.

"Ham" and "Billy" Talk To the Student Body

Under the auspices of the "Student Volunteer Band," Y. W. C. A., and Y. M. C. A., Ham and Billy, of the Union Theological Seminary, lectured here on March 25 and 26.

Mr. Bellengrath, otherwise known as Billy, spoke at the college chapel on "The Challenge of a World Task." Mr. Hamilton, or Ham, talked at the Baptist Church Sunday night. His subject was "Of Such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

These lectures, illustrated by lantern slides, impressed the audience with the conditions of non-Christian lands. The earnestness and sincerity of the young men did much toward making the talks effectual.

University students of Austria and Germany have developed a Young German movement (Deutschen Jugendmeinschaften) which seems to be a general revolt against ancient authorities, traditions and customs. Among the ideas and habits attacked are militarism, monarchy, class distinctions and alcoholism. The movement is idealistic-patriotic for the development of a better self and the aid of the nation in the day of trial. It takes different forms in different localities, but the general spirit seems the same.

Le Mouvement Etudiantin pour la Culture Morale of Belgium has formally voted to organize and conduct study groups for the investigation of the alcohol problem.

THE FLAPPER'S SOLILOQUY

To bob or not to bob—that is the question
Whether 'tis better in this case to suffer
The wit and sarcasm of outraged family
Or take scissors against a sea of tangles
And by a bobbing end them? To cut, to bob
No more and by a bob to say we end
The head-ache and the thousand natural breaks
That hair is to heir—'tis a consumption
Devoutly to be wished. To cut, to curl,
To curl perchance to singe! Ay—there's the rub
For in that bliss of bob what burns may come
When we have trimmed off this lengthy coil?
Must give us pause: There's the aspect
That makes calamity of our short locks;
For who would bear the smiles and scorns of men
The necessity of rats, for her much tangled puffs,
The pangs of hair nets torn, the cereal delay
The morning nap cut short and the snarls
That backward combing of her long hair makes
When she herself might her own respite bring
With her sharp scissors? Who would tangles bear
Or moan and struggle over un-combed hair,
But that the dread of something after bob,
That free, untrammelled state, from whose bourne
No venturer returns puzzles us all
And makes us rather hear those trials we have
Than to fly to others that we know not of?
Thus scissors do make cowards of us all
And thus the native hue of bobbed hair
Is sicklied over with the cost of permanent waves
And resolutions of great strength and energy
With this regard their currents turn awry
And lose the name of bobbing.
—The Critic.

OUR INTELLECTUAL MISSIONARIES

Thank the Congregationalist for this little story. A woman on a Pacific steamer remarked that she was sure a certain group of the passengers were missionaries, in fact she had "noticed that they wore the badge of an order in the Episcopal Church to which missionaries belong." These badges proved to be Phi Beta Kappa keys!

ABOLISH RESTRICTIONS ON GEN. ASSEMBLY HOPE OF DR. HUGHES

Citizenship, in chapel last Saturday week.

Mr. Hughes declared that in taking from the Assembly and vesting in the people the power of election of most public officials, the constitution has removed, or at least weakened the desire of the best men to run for the State Legislature.

The Assembly, Mr. Hughes said, has ceased to be a training school for statesmen. In former days public men received their early training for public life as members of the Assembly, he added.

The result on the Assembly of the loss of the power of election, and its small use as a training school for statesmen, Mr. Hughes asserted, is the "apparent changed conception of a legislator's duties. He seems to consider himself as simply an attorney for his own little bailiwick, and as charged with no responsibilities beyond its limits." The counties and cities have zealous champions, he said, "but no one represents the State of Virginia."

The earlier constitutions reposed confidence in the Assembly, Mr. Hughes said. The legislature elected the governor, members of the United States Senate, and judges, as well as exercising all powers not forbidden to it.

Today the country is governed by a "direct" rather than a "representative" democracy, Mr. Hughes stated. Therefore, he said, when officials are elected for units so large that it is impossible for the voters to know the qualifications of the candidates, it is a step backward, and not forward, although many people assert otherwise.

The people should put the weight of their sympathy and support behind the Assembly, he declared. "There is no institution," he said, more closely linked by chains of gratitude and sentiment to the General Assembly than the College of William and Mary." For many years the legislators met in the college chapel, and until the Revolution the college was entitled to a representative, he said.

After pointing out the debt the college owes the Assembly, he concluded: "We may feel assured that our confidence will not be misplaced, and that this pioneer body, endeared to us by three centuries of honorable struggle, democratic to the core, ever the subject of our affection and pride, will not betray the highest trust that a grateful people can confide in it."

Y. M. C. A. ELECTIONS

At a meeting in chapel last Saturday week the following men were elected as officers of the Y. M. C. A. for the school terms of 1922-23:

J. G. Pollard, Jr.—President.
D. George—Vice-President.
C. R. Ball—Secretary.
W. H. Graverley—Treasurer.
R. K. Cline—Chairman Social Committee.

E. B. Moffit—Chairman Handbook Committee.

R. Kenney—Chairman Relationship Committee.

S. C. Hall—Chairman Room Committee.

C. H. Harrison—Chairman Bible and Mission Study Committee.

It is hoped by members of the old Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, that E. B. Moffitt will attend the Officers Training School of the Y. M. C. A., which will be held April 7-8 at Blacksburg. In June there will be held at Blue Ridge, N. C., a meeting of representatives of all the Southern College Y. M. C. A.s, and it is hoped that the president-elect will attend.

Also at this meeting a motion was put and passed that $40.00 be sent to John Bentley, who left William and Mary last year to take up missionary work in Alaska. This money is to be used by him to take care of one dog of his team for a year.

Y. M. C. A. PINS FOR SALE

There has been a movement put on foot by a graduate of the University of Illinois to have a standard Y. M. C. A. pin adopted by all college Ys. This pin is a small red triangle with a white center. It is a gold plated affair and very nicely finished. The retail price of this pin is 25c.

The pin will be worn on the coat lapel. The reason for it is that some believe that the "esprit de corps" of the organization will be strengthened. Several Western Universities have accepted this as their standard.

If you want to purchase a pin see W. J. Reed, "Y" President, and get one from him.

Letter Received From An Alumnus In China

Nanking, China,
February 16, 1922.

Alumni Secretary,
College of William and Mary,
Williamsburg, Va., U. S. A.

My Dear Sir:—

I am just now in receipt of the letter from the Mace Fund Committee and I am hastening to reply in the hope that my contribution will not be too late to be included—perhaps in the overhead expense.

I regret that the distance prevented my getting the letter at an earlier date, and that it will still be considerable time before this reply reaches you, but those are circumstances over which we have no control, and I do not want them to interfere with the pleasure of contributing to the Mace Fund, which I think is a splendid idea.

The old College has meant a great deal to me, and I wish to be one of her sons to give a "mite" to such a fitting memorial.

You will confer a great favor on me if you will convey my affectionate esteem to Dr. Hall and Dr. Geiger.

Very sincerely,

(Rev.) Robt. Alexander Magill

Conditions Bad In Near East, Report

Repeated amputation of the limbs of little children because of repeated freezing, which means gangrene to these tots if they are not cared for at once, is told of in a letter just received here by Oliver J. Sands, State Chairman of the Near East in its drive for $300,000 in Virginia, from Fred P. Margerun, former manufacturer of Elizabethville, N. Y., now in the service of compassion and pity in the Near East.

"Today," he wrote, "One hundred hungry, shivering little fellows were at the door begging with all their hearts for admittance. They were a sorry looking lot. Only a few days ago twenty-one youngsters, realizing that they were slowly dying from starvation started across a snow covered mountain in rags. Nineteen arrived, death claiming one enroute. They were haggard and unkept, clothed in filthy rags no housewife would use to mop up with. It is chiefly the result of no shoes and prolonged wandering without care in a very high altitude. Mr. Margerun is stationed in the Caucasus.

"Those incidents are not unusual," he said in closing, "They are so usual that we here on the firing line pay little attention to them, having become hardened to suffering and death."

Mr. Sands is appealing to the people of Virginia to give liberally to the cause of the Near East Relief, in its drive for $300,000 in Virginia this year. "Every dollar that reaches Waller Holladay, 205 American National Bank Building, Richmond, means another chance for life for another child."

UNION OF NATIONS WITHOUT COERCION A POSSIBILITY

Wythe School of Government and Citizenship. The subject of Dr. Scott's lecture was "The English Constitution Under the Stuarts, Including the Bill of Rights."

George Mason said wisely, at the opening of the Federal Constitutional Convention, that a constitutional government must operate directly on the individuals of the states, not on the states collectively, eliminating coercion of the states, and restraining and punishing only those individuals whose guilt requires it, Dr. Scott stated.

That statement, the speaker said, made the Union possible, eliminating coercion. It will make, he declared, a larger union of the nations possible for such purpose as they may desire and to such extent as they may be willing to go without the principle of coercion against any state, inasmuch as the individual violating the law within the state will be restrained or punished by the state or nation itself.

George Mason, "by his Bill of Right, prefixed to the constitution of the free, sovereign and independent State of Virginia made it possible and worth while to have this Union of States," Dr. Scott asserted.

The Bill of Rights, as written by George Mason, the speaker said, "stands not only as a monument to his insight and ability, but a monument more enduring than the Statue of Liberty which adorns the entrance to the port of New York, a gift of that great nation, France, our first and only ally, who made that liberty possible on the field of Yorktown, but a few miles from this little city of Williamsburg, where the Statute of Liberty was first adopted. It is so clear that explanation would only cloud it. It is so brief that a summary to do it justice would likely be longer. Brief as it is, it summarizes the triumphs of constitutional liberty in the Old World. It states the advance which constitutional liberty has made from the Magna Carta, the Petition and Bill of Rights. And it gathers within its sixteen articles the ideas and precepts of that democratic government which obtains in these United States and which we fondly hope may be the source of liberty, equality and happiness among the peoples of the world."

Pictures at the Palace Next Week

SHOWS AT 4, 7, 8:30 P. M.

More than a touch of mystery, a tender vein of youthful romance and situations dynamically powerful in the sheer force of climatic drama—all of these elements have been admirably inter-mixed to make "Midnight," a Constance Binney picture, which will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Monday, one of the best pictures seen in recent months.

This offering reveals still further the emotional talent displayed by Constance Binney in her recent productions as "The Case of Becky" and "First Love." Miss Binney is seen as a trusting, too romantic girl whom an early marriage almost wrecks. Later happiness comes again, but is menaced by the past, a past that is obliterated in a way most satisfying from both the entertainment and dramatic point of view.

TUESDAY

Once every five years there comes a great crook drama.

In 1900 there was "Jim the Penman."

In 1905 there was "Leah Kleschna."

In 1910 there was "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

In 1915 there was "Within the Law."

Now in 1920 comes Tod Browning with "Outside the Law," an underworld epic, starring Priscilla Dean and in which appear Lon Chaney, E. A. Warren, Ralph Lewis, Wheeler Oakman, Melbourne MacDowell and Wilton Taylor. Whether this will be another classic of crookdom, of course, cannot safely be predicted. But the favored few who have already viewed this Universal-Jewel feature film, pronounce it a smashing human drama, flavored with a romance of the underworld and the mystery of a terrific oriental justice.

WEDNESDAY

Libraries of America and Europe were searched for architectural information by Cosmopolitan experts before the building of the magnificent settings in "The Bride's Play," a Paramount picture starring Marion Davies, was begun.

In this picture, which will be seen at the Palace Theatre next Wednesday, much of the action centres about a medieval Irish castle. The castle is one of the most majestic ever seen on the screen and is, moreover, notable for the remarkable detail of carving, fretwork, and other features of ancient architecture which distinguish it.

THURSDAY

Wallace Reid, probably one of the most popular male actors on the silver sheet, will appear at the Palace Theatre Thursday in his latest and most interesting production, "Rent Free." The production is said to be a high class one, and Reid always appeals to the college student.

FRIDAY

Viola Dana sets the pace to the goal of hilarity and decidedly clever entertainment in her latest Metro production, "Glass Houses," which is to be the main feature of an attractive program at the Palace Theatre next Friday. Vivacious little Miss Dana is seen as Joy Duval, who, with her sister, Cicily, loses the money they inherited. Joy makes herself up as a caricature office type in "sensible" clothes and horn-rimmed glasses, takes the name of "Jane Brown," and becomes a companion to Aunt Harriet. The latter is mainly concerned with the reform of her nephew, Billy Norton.

SATURDAY

That home, the great and sacred institution of home, isn't a matter of climate or geography, but of relatives and the propinquity of "Ma" and "Pa," was recently proved quite to the satisfaction of Alice Lake, the popular young Metro screen star, whose latest picture, "The Golden Gift," a Maxwell Karger production, will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Saturday.

visit as many of the Rotary Clubs on the line of travel as possible.

At the preliminaries, held in chapel on March 18, the Literary Societies were represented as follows:

Phoenix: W. A. Dickinson, C. J. Duke, Jr., O. H. Fulcher, T. H. Mawson, and A. J. Winder.

Philomathean: H. L. Gilbert, Herbert Moss, Emmett Wright, and C. B. Quaintance.

Of these men, Dickinson, Duke, Mawson, and Winder were selected to represent William and Mary in debate this spring.

ON AND OFF THE CAMPUS What the College Man Is Wearing This Summer

It is conceded everywhere that the college man is the style pacemaker for the younger generation. The college fellow who usually seeks the latest in smart attire will no doubt take to the new straw hats with their slightly wider brims and medium crowns. The hats are ornamented with colored bands which represent the fraternity or secret society of the wearer.

It is noteworthy that the collegian assumes a studied carelessness about his clothes, therefore, he especially delights in knickers. However, he wears them only for sport wear, having the good taste to avoid them for town usage.

While the college man devotes himself to a rough Sennit straw for street wear or with a dinner jacket, he welcomes a soft leghorn straw for sport wear. Its counterpart for winter use is a soft felt turned down all the way around. These sport straws and felts are a real protection from the sun's rays during sporting events. Incidentally, they lend variety to the college man's wardrobe, and the college man is a living exponent of the fact that variety is the spice of life.
